

KOALA SMART AMBASSADOR - Role Description

Do you have a passion for wildlife education? Are you a big fan of Koala Smart?

Koala Smart seeks Ambassadors that share our mission to inspire, motivate, and educate students and community, to ensure a sustainable future for our Koala's. As an ambassador, you will be able to help propel the Koala Smart program forward, through promotion via your personal and professional network.

Ambassadors may include teachers who are familiar with the program, retired teachers, professionals in education, professionals in the conservation field, conservation groups or students who were program participants and are now above 18.

Activities may include using your networking and training opportunities to highlight Koala Smart, letting Koala Smart know of schools interested in environmental studies, advising Koala Smart of presentation or marketing opportunities.

Specific benefits of being an Ambassador as a teacher: contributing to collegiate learning, adding to your own professional learning, and presenting for Koala Smart at conferences or events can be used for teacher identified hours.

Physical and digital promotional resources and information can be provided upon request.

This is an opportunity to play a significant and vital role, in increasing awareness and participation within the program.

Responsibilities

- Represent Koala Smart professionally at events, schools, or conferences
- Communicate the value of Koala Smart to schools and the community
- Promote Koala Smart through own personal or professional network
- Provide Koala Smart awareness of your promotional activities
- Record your volunteer hours (optional)

Requirements and skills

- Be over 18
- Passionate about Koala Conservation
- Be willing to gain familiarity with Koala Smart website and services
